CAMPAIGN FOR SUPREMACY IN NEW MEXICO IS NOW BEGINNING

Both Democratic and Republicans Are Actively at Work at Their Respective Headquarters.

FOUR SIMULTANEOUS SPEECH-MAKING TOURS

Newspaper Correspondent to Accompany Groups Candidates and Report Political Meetings Over the State.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL

Santa Fe, Sept. 10.—The republican and democratic campaign committees are now in successful operation, and the candidates are already seeking the hearts of the voters and telling them why the "horny handed sons of toil" should vote the democratic or the republican ticket next November.

Immediately after the meeting of the republican state executive committee last Monday, Holm O. Bursum, with Guthrie Smith as his press reporter, started to San Juan county, where he has been making speeches and attending dances. His tour of that section of the state has ended, and he is expected to return to the Rio Grande valley by way of Gallup tomorrow.

Chasing Each Other.

Hon. A. A. Jones, with one or two others of the democratic candidates, is expected to tour Mori, Taos, Rio Arriba, and San Juan during the present week. But Mr. Jones will have on his track his republican opponent, Frank A. Hubbell, and one or two other republican politicians. Thus the combat is beginning, and will be kept up with unabated vigor until the campaign ends in November.

Directing the campaigns, as the generals of the opposing sides, are Arthur Schlegman for the democrats, and W. H. Gillenwater for the republicans. Each of them is a post master of the political war game. Each of them is cool, shrewd, energetic and relentless. Each of them claims confidence in the final outcome.

Assisting Gillenwater is Secretary Jose D. Sena, Reed Holloman, A. M. Berger, private secretary to Congressman Hernandez, and H. B. Hening, publicity manager. Of course, there are others, but these are the heavyweights at headquarters.

Schlegman Abby Assisted.

Mr. Schlegman has not yet selected his secretary, so far as the public knows, but he about him all the time a number of the best politicians in the democratic party. Working just as though they were ready employed to do so, which is not the case, finds every night at headquarters J. H. McManus, warden of the penitentiary, and T. J. Guillot, recently secretary of the republican state central committee. Mr. Schlegman has not yet named a publicity manager, and it is not known here who he has in mind.

It is understood that newspaper men will be in great demand when the campaign gets under full headway. There will be four campaign tours under way at the same time. On the republican side it is understood that Holm O. Bursum will be accompanied by Hon. W. E. Lindsey, candidate for lieutenant governor; B. P. Ervin, candidate to succeed him as commissioner of public lands; J. H. Wagner, candidate for superintendent of public instruction, and probably F. W. Clancy, who is a candidate on the republican ticket to succeed himself as attorney general. It is understood that Chief Justice Clarence J. Roberts will take no part in the campaign, on the ground that the judiciary should keep out of political campaign activities.

Four Campaign Tours.

On the democratic side, it is not believed that E. C. de la Fuca, candidate for governor, will be active in the campaign. He will make a number of speeches, but will not undertake a high-pressure campaign tour. His health is not good, but the doctors say it is steadily improving and that he will be able to be quite active before the campaign closes. The leader of the democratic state ticket group will be Governor William C. McDonald, candidate for lieutenant governor. Governor McDonald is one of the best politicians in the state. He is a good speaker and a good mixer generally, and he has his "fighting clothes on," and is ready for the fray in whatever form it may come. With Governor McDonald will be H. Roy Hall, candidate for treasurer; Harry L. Paton, candidate for attorney general; J. L. G. Swinney, candidate for superintendent of public instruction; George A. Davison, candidate for commissioner of public lands and Michael A. Otero, candidate for state auditor.

On another tour will be Hon. A. A. Jones, candidate on the democratic ticket for United States senator, and Hon. William R. Wallin, candidate for the lower house of congress. Doubtless some of the state candidates will be with them.

With Frank A. Hubbell will be Senator H. C. Hernandez and a number of the candidates on the republican state ticket.

UMPIRE'S DECISION IS UNPOPULAR IN PANAMA

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.

Panama, Sept. 10.—The first case of non-compliance with the decision of the Panama joint land commission, which was appointed to assess damages and settle settlements where private lands were taken in the canal zone for public uses, has arisen over the award of the umpire on the McGregor claim. Although the attorneys for the claimants have secured a writ of mandamus from the district court directing the auditor to pay $40,000 on the McGregor claim, Frank Fenner, legal adviser of the canal commission, has refused to sign the warrant, alleging that there was a previous payment for the land in connection with the Duncan claim.

Mr. Fenner will sail for the United States tomorrow.

COMMISSIONERS READY TO RESUME MEETINGS

New London, Conn., Sept. 10.—With the return here tonight of Luis Cabrera and Alberto Parte from weekend trips to Boston and New York, members of the American-Mexican joint commission were ready to resume tomorrow their deliberations as to the situation along the Mexican border. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, assistant chief of staff of the United States army, is expected to reach here soon, his presence having been requested by the American commissioners, who desire the benefit of his personal information as to border conditions.

The veterans were escorted by other associations comprising members of combatants of 1914, and veterans of the war of 1870. The great tomb at Neuromontiers, marking the last resting place of 135 men, the plain between Chambry and Barcy, where the three tricolor flags marked the spot where as many heroes fell, the monument at Chambry, raised to the memory of the soldiers of the army of Paris, and the cemetery at Arrezy and Villers, were covered with flowers.

Truce to the Dead.

Mr. Denes Cochran, minister of state, attended the ceremony at the cathedral in Meaux, which was presided over by Bishop Marboeuf of Meaux, who was assisted by Cardinal Luçon, archbishop of Rheims.

Justin Godart, under secretary of war, visited the different cemeteries, as the representative of the government, and deposited immense palms bearing in golden letters the words: "To the immortal victors of the Marne."

General Totally Blind.

Gen. Michael Joseph Maunoury, who led the army of Paris victoriously against the German general von Kluck's right wing in the great battle of the Marne, died yesterday in Toulon, where delegations called and presented him with flowers and an artistic cup, the latter a gift of the people. General Maunoury, who resumed for a short time his duties as governor of Paris after his partial recovery from a wound received while in a front line trench, was completely blind and is living in retirement, in company with his son, Capt. Louis Maunoury, who lost a leg in the war.

During the day the principal points of interest in the battlefield of the Marne were visited by a delegation of French and foreign journalists, under the escort of French officers.

MRS. JULIA A. LENT, 58.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Henderson and Mrs. James L. Henderson, 52, were brought to the hospital yesterday morning when the machine was struck by a Colorado & Southern train. The dead.

Mrs. Lent was thrown clear of the wreckage and lived for a short time after the collision.

The bodies of the other victims were pinned under the machine and it was necessary to remove the pilot of the engine in order to extricate them.

MOBILIZATION IS ALMOST COMPLETED

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.

Berlin, Sept. 10 (via London).—Major Mohr, military critic of the Tagesblatt, calculates the German losses in connection with the capture of the Bulgarians and Germans on the Danube front of Turtukia, not less than 30,000.

He estimates the Russian army in Bulgaria between 300,000 and 400,000, and points out that Turtukia was expected to protect Bulgaria from a Turkish attack.

The president immediately canceled all engagements for tomorrow, and announced he would start for New London early in the morning.

HEAVY VOTE IS PREDICTED FOR MAINE; VICTORY STILL IN DOUBT

Should Governor Curtis Be Re-elected Democrats Will Regard It as an Endorsement of Wilson.

SENATORIAL CONTEST HIGHLY IMPORTANT

First Contest Over Upper House Control to Be Determined by Results in Pine Tree State.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.

Portland, Me., Sept. 10.—A big vote is predicted in the state election tomorrow. After a Sunday of comparative rest and review, during which the heat of battle cooled somewhat, the party managers tonight declared they stood by figures proclaimed at the close of the campaign last night. The republicans claim everything, with totals approximating 15,000. The democrats claim pluralities of 3,000. They admit the outcome in the Third and Fourth congressional districts is in doubt.

If an average is struck between the rival claims, Maine, politically speaking, may be said to be either party's state tonight. Three conclusions, however, are not disputed.

Hinges on Governorship.

If Governor Oakley C. Curtis is re-elected the democrats the result will be accepted generally as an endorsement of the administration.

If the democrats, who now hold one of the four seats in congress, return Congressman Daniel J. McGehee and Senator C. M. Sills, dean of Bowdoin college, it will be taken as evidence that the voters of the state generally wish to hold up the ranks of President Wilson.

Senatorial Important.

The fight for United States senators is especially important, as upon the outcome may depend the control of the upper house to obtain which the republicans must win nine seats as they did by majority, as thirty-two senators will be chosen by popular vote.

If the democrats by a popular vote elect United States Senator Charles F. Johnson and with another seat in the senate through the defeat of former Governor H. M. Fernald by Senator C. M. Sills, dean of Bowdoin college, it will be taken as evidence that the voters of the state generally wish to hold up the ranks of President Wilson.

Senate Control.

The fight for the senate legislative control is important locally, as the two houses of the legislature will be controlled by the democrats, who will be able to pass bills.

The control of the state legislative assembly is important locally, as the two houses of the legislature will be controlled by the democrats, who will be able to pass bills.

Buy Your Fair Tickets Today and Vote for Wilson or Hughes

Colonel William Jennings Bryan bought the first ticket to the state fair and cast the first vote for any candidate for the presidency. He said he was willing to pay two dollars for a chance to vote for Wilson any time.

The advance ticket sale—in the shape of a straw vote for Wilson or Hughes—commences this morning and will be conducted throughout the week.

Apon the enthusiasm with which the people of the state in general and of Albuquerque in particular take hold of the voting contest depends the success of the state fair.

The advance sale last year insured the attendance. Instead of two or three hundred people, as had been the case in former years, on the first day, the attendance reached more than 2,000, and from that time on there were crowds, day and night.

For the sum of two dollars expended during this week you can secure admittance to the fair grounds while the fair is in progress. The bargain counter proposition, and costs just twenty-five cents more than half it will cost you if you buy tickets after this week.

Beginning today, and ending next Saturday, is your first and last chance to get a world-beating bargain. Every minute of the fair will be filled with entertainment or action thrill. The fireworks will be better than ever before, and the specialties such as never before have been seen in the southwest.

The county and livestock exhibits will be better than have ever been seen in this state before. They will show you what New Mexico can do in a day. In the language of Mr. Putney, the fair was a "bumping" last year. It will be more of a bumping this year. Bigger and better is the motto now.

Not only must you buy tickets this week for yourself and your family, but you must buy all the tickets you can use; for you will want to attend the fair every day and every night.

Two dollars for admission to the grand nine times!

Vote for the presidential candidate of your choice!
